

HILULUK

t was a rainy and foggy night, after a terrible storm that three friends were sent away in a dark and gloomy forest. There was not a living soul in sight, graveyards were circling the area. The friends were lying on the dirty and wet floor, unconscious, until a mysterious carriage emerged from the fog. An old man descended from the carriage with a lantern in his hand. Looking at the three corpses on the floor and thinking that they were dead, he started to drag them all the way to his castle.

After a long ride, they arrived at the destination when suddenly they woke up. Sasha, the youngest of the group, freaked out and said: "WHERE ARE WE??"

The other two finally realized that they were in an unknown place. A high pitch voice resonated in their heads and approached: "Finally!! You are awake. Sorry for scaring you, I just wanted to get you to safety when I saw you lying on the repellent floor." The three friends didn't answer; they were too busy peering around. Seeing that his guest didn't respond he added: "Oh! I see that you are a bit confused about this place. Let me introduce to you my master castle: THE HILULUK CASTLE"

"THE HILULUK? LIKE THE FAMOUS SURGEON THAT REVOLUCED SCIENCE? I AM HIS BIGGEST FAN!!" said Sacha with a voice full of excitement. Raven frusturated asked :

"Are you completly mad ? This man just dragged us into his castle when we were UNCONSCIOUS" Marcus agreed with her and started to leave the place.

" It's to dark and dangerous outside , let me invite you just for the night and i promise you that you can leave tomorrow at dawn."

After a long reflexion the three friends decided to stay for the night. During the long walk to their chamber they could see paints all over the brick walls of the corridor. Marcus declared that he could actually see the paint moving and speaking to him , raven was getting even more scared that she was in the beginning so she tried to convince herself that it was false , sacha in the other side was fancying about what questions he was going to ask to his idol .

Marcus and sacha were placed in a different chamber from raven.

DUE TO A LACK OF TIME WE CANT FINISH THIS MASTERPIECE. LET YOUR
